Meet the Speaker:

Bonita Pratt began her work in the pro-life movement in 2011 when she started volunteering at a local pregnancy center. She continued to volunteer and then work at the center for 10 years. While attending Saint Mary's College, she ran the pro-life club, which included creating fundraising campaigns, advocating for the pregnant students on campus, organizing multiple events, and hosting the diocesan bishop. Bonita was also a pregnancy counselor for two years, helping women feel supported and able to choose life for their babies. She was a speaker at the local gathering for the National Day of Prayer – focusing on the unborn. She has attended the local and national Marches for Life multiple times and was honored to be a part of EWTN's live coverage for the 2022 March. Bonita now spends her time teaching a high school class on pro-life apologetics, giving talks to young adults and getting ready for her little baby who's coming this fall!
